A Faith That Endures

Today's reading from the Gospel of John is proclaimed every year on the second Sunday of Easter. St. Thomas, the disciple who doubts, represents the reality of the early church that comes after the first community of disciples. All but the first disciples must now believe without seeing the Resurrected Jesus. Like St. Thomas, we may at times doubt the news that Jesus, who was crucified and buried, appeared to his disciples in a glorified body. It is part of our human nature to seek hard evidence. Thomas says that he must not just see, but touch the wounds. Thomas knows that the proof of Jesus' resurrection is found in the wounds. The wounds must be real, not just by showing them, but by inviting Thomas to touch them. This is an incredible act of intimacy and vulnerability. Author Anne Lamott wrote that "the opposite of faith is not doubt: it is certainty." I think she's right. Faith isn't the absence of doubt, but the trust that something can be true despite our doubts.

But doubting one's faith in God can be a very tough place to be in. It is unsettling, disorienting, and frightening when it happens. You doubt that God cares, that he is listening; you doubt that he is even aware of who you are. Sometimes we think of our faith as safe, comfortable, unchanging, familiar. But what if God doesn't want us to be comfortable and safe? What if comfortable and safe keep God at a distance? Doubt tears down the safe walls to force us on a journey. It may feel like God is far away or absent when in fact doubt is a gift of God to move us to spiritual maturity. Doubt is not a sign of weakness, but a sign of growth. Doubting God is painful and frightening because we think we are leaving God behind, but we are only leaving behind the idea of God we like to surround ourselves with—the small God, the God we control, the God who agrees with us. Doubt forces us to look at who we think God is. Doubt signals that we are in the process of dying to ourselves and to our ideas about God.

Father Richard Rohr, in his book Falling Upward, writes about holding the full mystery of life (which I think is another way of saying "having faith"). He says, and again, I think he's right, that "to hold the full mystery of life is always to endure its other half, which is the equal mystery of death and doubt. To know anything fully is always to hold that part of it which is mysterious and unknowable." Fr. Rohr says, "Pain teaches a most counterintuitive thing—that we must go down before we even know what up is.

Our pain must first be an ordinary wound before it can become a sacred wound. Suffering of some kind seems to be the only thing strong enough to destabilize our arrogance, surety and ignorance. All healthy religions show you what to do with your pain. If we do not transform our pain, we will most assuredly transmit it. If your religion is not showing you how to transform your pain, it is junk religion. If you are encouraged to wallow in your pain, something is very wrong.

It isn't hard at all to find examples of those who have not dealt well with their pain; our society is filled with them, those who deflect and pass on pain to others, knowingly or not. As human beings, we need a God with scars, reminders of struggles we've been through, of all kinds; but scars are also a sign of the healing process of life. The scars that Jesus showed to Thomas, paired with his announcement of forgiveness and peace, drove home the reality of Jesus' transforming love and surprising presence. Don't run away from doubt. Don't fight it. Don't think of it as the enemy. Pass through it—patiently... and honestly... and courageously. When you are in doubt, you are in a period of transformation. Welcome it as a gift—which is hard to do to if your entire universe is falling down around you. God is teaching you to trust him, not yourself.

He means to have all of us, not just on the surface of going to church, volunteering, or being involved in ministries; not just the part people see, but the part no one sees. Not even you.

Touch and believe; the two go hand in hand. We meet the risen Jesus when we touch the wounds of the world – the wounds of the poor, the wounds of the suffering. No one comes to believe meaningfully in the possibilities – for peace, justice, for the fruits of resurrection – until he touches the wounds of others. Without that, our believing reeks of sanctimony and religiosity. Through our work among the homeless, in soup kitchens and shelters, through our work with the sick and dying in hospitals, our work among migrants and prisoners, our work in war-zones and refugee camps, our work in our broken inner cities, whenever we meet the poor, disenfranchised, and marginalized – when we touch their wounds, their pain, their suffering – we meet the risen Christ. We discover God. And this encounter not only gives us new life and hope, it changes our lives.

Click on reflections for Sunday Readings 5-5-19 and listen to Marsha Adamczyk reflect on the readings.

Third Sunday of Easter

1. How difficult would it be for you to live in a place where Christianity is not welcome? How could you continue to witness?
2. Who is suffering today for the gospel message? How can we help?
3. In Revelation, John tells us: "Worthy is the Lamb that was slaughtered to receive power and wealth and wisdom and might and honor and glory and blessing!" Which of these 7 words speak to you? Why?
4. Why do you think that Jesus asked Peter three separate times, "Do you love me?"
5. At the end of the gospel, Jesus says: "Follow Me." Over the years, how have you changed or adjusted the way you follow Jesus?
6. Jesus asks us to tend His sheep. What does tending sheep look like when you do it out of an obligation versus out of love?

Who is My Neighbor?

In this session we will discuss the overall Catholic Social Teaching Principles and detail the scriptural roots and moral framework that support the goals of the Just Neighbors program. We will explore how our faith calls us to respond to the needs of those who are poor.

We do have a few spaces available if anyone would like to join us. Preregistration is required as there are a limited number of seats for this program. There is no cost. To pre-register, contact Mary Whiteside at 847-907-3450 or mwhiteside@holyfamilyparish.org.

Compliment your children or your parents when 'you catch them practicing their resurrection faith'. HFCA Receives Earth Day Honors

Caring for God’s creation is a tenet of Catholic Social Justice and part of our school culture. You can see it in our restored wetland and prairie gardens in our nationally certified outdoor classroom, you can see it in our curriculum, and you can see it in our cafeteria—of all places!

Our Genesis One Club recently won the Keep Northern Illinois Beautiful Earth Day Hutchcroft Youth Award for championing efforts to reduce waste in our cafeteria. HFCA has over 525 students enrolled in preschool through grade 8. On any given day, up to 400 students eat lunch in our cafeteria. Changing the operation and culture of a school cafeteria is a daunting task, but these middle school students embraced the challenge.

We now compost an average of 70 pounds of food waste weekly and rescue another 30 pounds of uneaten food to share with less fortunate families within our community.

The Genesis One Club encourages all of our students to care for our environment by reducing more, reusing more and recycling more.

Their persistent stewardship is a model for all of our students and staff. They are thinkers, leaders grounded in faith!

Genesis One members, Lauren Graham, Bridget Kopp, Meredith Garcia and Jacqueline Caglar

We're Havin' a Salad in a Jar Party
Thursday, May 9, 2019 from 4:00pm to 6:00pm
Holy Family Common Ground
Limited Seating – Register NOW!

The OWLS are honored to have inspirational speaker, Mollie (McCoy) Burleson, return to Holy Family to present our May event. Mollie is also a soccer mom, home school mom, and musician who lives with her husband, Thomas, and 2 sons. Music was a significant part of her life from a very young age and, after college, she accepted a full-time position here at Holy Family as Music Director for 9 years. Seven years ago she discovered the power of whole food nutrition on the human body. Her energetic and enthusiastic style, through events such as this, allows her to share her heart and inspire healthy living wherever she goes!

Organic or conventional? Eating healthy can seem like a daunting task, but it doesn't have to be! Come and hear how each color of fruits and vegetables affects different parts of the body. Let's hear about fun ways to incorporate healthier options into our lifestyle. She will guide us step-by-step as we build "salads in a jar" to create the healthiest "fast food" you've ever seen!

A fee of $12 will include this presentation, a 16 oz. dishwasher cleaned mason jar, and the prepared veggies needed to make your own personal "salad in a jar" to take home and enjoy. Hospitality will also be served.

You must be registered to attend. Registration forms are located on the narthex shelves. Please complete the form and return to the front office no later than Sunday, May 5. Due to the preparation for this event, we cannot accept late registrations or walk-ins. Questions: Please email Eileen at dwtstjs@aol.com or Barb at owlsnest2018@aol.com.

Catholic Charities New Hope Apartments A Transitional Housing Program for Homeless Families February, 2019 Update

Family #30

Our family consists of a mom and her two sons ages 4 and 2.

Our mom is still on track with reaching her goals and things seem to be falling into place. Issues she had previously with her neighbors have quieted down. However, she still plans to move when her lease is up in August. Her goal is to remain in the community because the kids are well adjusted and enjoy going to their neighborhood school.

Mom is doing well and continues to build her savings. She plans to file her taxes in the beginning of April and will add her anticipated refund to her savings account.

Goals:

- Save up at least 3 month's rent
- Obtain a CNA certificate
- Secure affordable housing before June 2019

Family #31

This family consists of a 24 year old female and her two sons' ages 7 and 5.

Our mom is doing better and continues to work at a restaurant. Things are going well and she reported they want to promote her to a Manager position. She feels ready to accept the position. She realizes it may be challenging because things are unorganized, however, she feels confident that she can get things running smoothly. She is also training for a part time job as a server. Both jobs are necessary since each one is part time.

Kids are doing great! Dad is back helping as much as he can. They are getting along well co-parenting.

Goals:

- Save up at least 3 month's rent
- Attend work and school as scheduled
- Apply for low income housing
- Look for full-time employment
- Save up for a car

Our moms and kids are doing very well thanks to your continued support for our families.
It has truly been a blessing having assisted 31 families with these awesome
Peace and Justice Cluster parishioners!!

There will be volunteers there to take your donations and put them directly on the truck. Tax receipts will be available. PLEASE DO NOT BRING ANY DONATIONS TO THE CHURCH PRIOR TO SATURDAY, MAY 4. WE HAVE NO STORAGE SPACE AVAILABLE.

Please contact Mary-Frances at mfconway94@comcast.net if you would like to help or have questions.

Catholic Charities Collection on Mother's Day

As an ailing senior, Cochise relies on the help of a dependable home aide to help her with daily tasks and errands so she could continue to live in her own home and enjoy a high quality of life. When she had trouble finding an aide that would fit her needs, she reached out to Catholic Charities who worked with her to find somebody she was comfortable with. Last year 364,373 seniors were supported by Catholic Charities through many programs including home delivered meals, adult day care, senior centers, congregate meals, family caregiver assistance, transportation services, the hospital transition program and more. The support seniors receive from Catholic Charities, ensures that they continue to live comfortably in their own homes and communities for as long as possible with dignity and compassionate support.

Please give to Catholic Charities on Mother's Day to help seniors stay healthy.

Interfaith Mental Health Coalition Presents: SUICIDE AWARENESS AND INTERVENTION TRAINING Monday, May 6, 2019 7-8:30pm Common Ground

Suicide is a difficult topic for all of us. Our goal is to equip you to feel more confident in responding to those who are struggling with wanting to live, or those who have lost a loved one to suicide.

Goals of Training:

- General awareness about suicide
- Learn warning signs of suicidal thinking and behavior
- Learn three basic intervention skills that can help avert the tragedy of suicide (QPR)

Facilitator, Mandy Burbank, LCSW, will facilitate the 80-minute training. You will go home with a resource booklet to assist you if and when you need to employ QPR.

To RSVP contact Sue Geegan at sgeegan@holymfamilyparish.org or 847-907-3443. There is no charge for this training, however, a free will offering will be taken to support agencies providing prevention services.
