Solemnity of the Body and Blood of Christ

“Good and gracious God, you invite us to recognize and reverence your divine image and likeness in our neighbor. Enable us to see the reality of racism and free us to challenge and uproot it from our society, our world, and ourselves.”

What have the last two weeks been like for you? What thoughts and feelings have come up inside you? The last two weeks have left me feeling much sadness, powerlessness and fear. I’ve been overwhelmed by the acts of violence, looting and vandalism. I am deeply grieved every time I see the video or pictures of George Floyd. I also saw some brief moments of hope in the videos of peaceful protestors, police officers kneeling before protesters and even police officers dancing together with protesters in a spontaneous moment of levity in the streets.

As a faith community grounded in social justice, Holy Family Parish joins with the larger Church celebrating the Feast of the Body and Blood of Christ. It is a feast for hungry people in a hungry world. A feast that believes everyone is looking for something that will sustain and nourish their life, something that will feed and energize them, and something that will fill and satisfy them. Everyone is looking for this kind of bread. The problem is not that we are all hungry, but that the kind of bread we eat may not truly satisfy. The world is full of bread that promises to fill us, but far too often leaves us hungry, empty and searching. It is a reminder that not all bread can give real and sustaining life. Perishable bread nourishes only a perishable life. It leaves us wanting only for more and more of the same.

We believe that the food which endures is truly Jesus himself. Jesus is the bread that is broken and distributed for the life of the world. Jesus is the bread that is broken and yet never divided. Jesus is the bread that is broken and yet never exhausted. Jesus is the bread that is broken that truly nourishes those who believe in and eat of him. When we believe in Jesus, the act of eating, ingesting and taking of him into our lives nourishes us and sustains us as we start living differently. We begin to see ourselves and one another as persons created in the image and likeness of God rather than as obstacles or issues to be overcome. We trust the silence of prayer rather than the words of argument. We choose love and forgiveness rather than anger and retribution. We relate with intimacy and vulnerability rather than superficiality and defensiveness. We listen for God’s voice rather than our own. Ultimately, we seek life rather than death.

Throughout the gospels, we see Jesus feeding and nourishing life in so many ways and circumstances: through his love, presence, guidance and teaching; through his healing, forgiveness and mercy; through his generosity, compassion and wisdom. This is the bread that feeds the soul. The corollary question today is this: When have you been bread in someone else’s life? When have you fed and nourished others? When have you sustained others? When have you strengthened others? Jesus is offering us the gift of solidarity with himself and one another. Jesus is the imperishable bread that nourishes and sustains an imperishable life. Jesus is making us the same offer. He offers himself to us in every one of our relationships: family, friends, strangers, enemies, those who agree with us and those who disagree.

In every situation and each day of our life we must choose the bread we eat, perishable or imperishable. The bread we choose to eat says something about our appetite and what we hunger for. If we want new life, then we need to be eating the bread of new life. If we want to bring new life to one another, then we need to be the bread of life. I pray that we at Holy Family Parish will walk in solidarity with people of every race, class, and culture in repentance, forgiveness and healing. Let us hunger and thirst for the real bread and precious blood of compassion, justice and peace.

What kind of bread are you eating today? Does it fill and nourish you? Or does it leave you hungry and malnourished? Is it sustaining and enduring or has it become hard and dry? What’s your hunger? What kind of bread will you eat this week? What kind of bread will you be for another this week?

“Heavenly Father, in our efforts to dismantle racism, we understand that we struggle not merely against flesh and blood but against powers and principalities – those institutions and systems that keep racism alive by perpetuating the lie that some members of the family are inferior and others superior. Create in us a new mind and heart that will enable us to see brothers and sisters in the faces of those divided by racial categories. Give us the grace and strength to rid ourselves of racial stereotypes that oppress some of us while providing entitlements to others. Help us to create a church and a nation that embraces the hopes and fears of oppressed people of color where we live, as well as those around the world. Heal your family God, and make us one with you, in union with our brother Jesus, and empowered by your Holy Spirit. Amen.”

Wake Me Up Lord

Wake me up Lord, so that the evil of racism finds no home within me.
Keep watch over my heart Lord,
and remove from me any barriers to your grace,
that may oppress and offend my brothers and sisters.
Fill my spirit Lord, so that I may give services of justice and peace.
Clear my mind Lord, and use it for your glory.
And finally, remind us Lord that you said,
"blessed are the peacemakers,
for they shall be called children of God."
Amen.

Preparing for Next Week...

We invite you to read the scripture readings for June 21,
Twelfth Sunday in Ordinary Time, and then reflect on these questions:

1. As a prophet, Jeremiah is tormented, but in the end comes full circle with his words: "Sing to the Lord, praise the Lord." Like Jeremiah, why do we sometimes struggle to believe that God cares for us? What brings us back to God?
2. Paul contrasts sin and death to the power of forgiveness and life everlasting. How can we be mindful of God's grace every day?
3. Jesus tells us: "Even all the hairs on your head are counted." What does this statement mean to you?
4. The theme of our three readings is that discipleship is difficult, but strength comes from God. How has God been a source of strength in your daily life? How has God helped you overcome a hardship?

SOCIAL JUSTICE

How is Christ, the Son of the living God, revealed to you? How is Christ revealed to you through the eyes of the poor and mistreated?

The Ablaze Young Adult Ministry celebrated its first anniversary this month! As we approached the end of this first year, we decided to send out surveys to those who have been involved with the ministry to ask how this ministry has benefited them throughout the year. Below are some of the responses we received:

“Ablaze has provided me with a community of fellow young adult Catholics and provides a space where I can share my faith confidently and freely”

“It has granted me a great sense of belonging & community”

“It’s given me a place to connect with people my age discussing our religion and God”

“It helped me see friends and have a chance to go back to church and think about God during a busy time”

“It’s been just a great opportunity to relax & it’s been holding me up to some prayer time which is fantastic”

“It’s great to have a group of people nearby who are trying to grow in the Lord”

This ministry has made an impact on young adults in a time when it is most difficult to remain connected to faith - in college.

In this time of slowed-down life, we have also taken time for evaluation and reflection. In evaluating the success of Ablaze and its potential, we sent out surveys to many college students from our community and received over 60 responses. Based on these survey responses, we are making adjustments to the Ablaze ministry to allow it to better serve our young people.

We are excited to announce that the Ablaze Young Adult Ministry will now be the Ablaze College Ministry. By fine-tuning the age group of this ministry, we will be better able to address the specific challenges that are faced in the years after high school. Those who are not attending college but are still in this age group are also invited to join. For anyone post-college, we are currently forming new Small Christian Communities to continue their faith journeys in communities that better meet their needs. If you or someone you know is interested in joining one of these small faith sharing groups, please contact Courtney at csmola@holyfamilyparish.org for more information or register at: <https://forms.gle/aGZHBgpBf8rexSxP9>

As many parishioners in Ablaze live near their college campuses during the academic year, this ministry will be primarily meeting online via video calls with some in-person meetings when many are back in town on school breaks. We will be focusing on topic-based faith discussions, service events, retreats, praise and worship events, mission trips, and shared witness talks. We hope this ministry can assist our college students in better understanding what makes us Catholic, why we have the beliefs we do, how to grow spiritually in college and stay connected to our faith, and ways to incorporate faith into the busy college lifestyle.

Catholic Social Teaching Why CST needs to be practiced more than ever!

Sue Geegan
Director
847-907-3443
sgeegan
@holyfamilyparish.org

The Human Concerns Community...

offers assistance with life's basic needs, spiritual and emotional support as well as additional resources with partners in our community while promoting mercy and justice by putting our faith into action.

You could say Catholic social teaching (CST) has been the foundation of our faith since the inception of Christianity, as Jesus Christ lived and preached loving your neighbor and concern for the poor and outcast. However, CST began to be articulated when Pope Leo XIII wrote the famous 1891 encyclical, Rerum Novarum, which advocated for worker's rights and responsibilities during the Industrial Revolution. The world was very different in Jesus' time as well as in the 1890's. But, is it really so different?

In the coming weeks, I will reflect on one of the seven main CST's in our current environment. Last week we read the United States Catholic Conference of Bishops (USCCB) statement on CST. This week we will delve into Call to Family, Community, and Participation.

Call to Family, Community, and Participation

The person is not only sacred but also social. How we organize our society in economics and politics, in law and policy directly affects human dignity and the capacity of individuals to grow in community. The family is the central social institution that must be supported and strengthened, not undermined. We believe people have a right and a duty to participate in society, seeking together the common good and well-being of all, especially the poor and vulnerable.

As I write this article, our country experienced the horrific loss of George Floyd by senseless police brutality. If that wasn't enough, non-violent protests were inflicted with outside agitators who were needlessly destructive and violent. The Call to Family, Community and Participation speaks to our sense of commonality and our duty to be advocates for the poor and vulnerable and those affected by discrimination. People of color face a different reality than whites due solely to the color of their skin. If family is the central social institution that must be supported and strengthened, then how do we, as people of faith, stand up to these inequities so ALL families have the same advantages?

What can Holy Family do to bring about a better understanding of racial harmony? What can you do to face racial discrimination when you see it in a non-violent way? In our economic and criminal justice systems, what needs to be changed so people of ALL colors, cultures and economic status have the same rights? What are we doing as a Parish to identify these needs and address them? These are very difficult questions with no easy answers, however, if we tackle them together, collectively we can make a difference.

I ask you to pray about these important questions and respond to me at sgeegan@holyfamilyparish.org with your thoughts and suggestions. I also welcome personal thoughts you'd like to share with the parish about your feelings on what has happened these past few weeks. We are truly in this together!
