Mass Updates

- We are now offering 90 registrations for Mass. Some have expressed confusion as to what this means for a total number of attendees. We have found that a registration can be for one or for several. Consequently, one person or several people is/are able to sit in a pew and still keep proper social distance. Therefore 90 reservations may translate to 180 or 210 depending on the number of multiple people in a single registration.

- We now offer Communion at the more familiar time of Mass because our hard working Re-Opening Team has figured out a traffic flow and instructions for people to return to their seats safely after receiving Communion. Please encourage all to be very attentive to their social distancing while returning to their seats.

- The wisdom behind moving Communion to the very end of Mass was to alleviate people stepping over and passing too closely to those who remain in the pew. In addition, that procedure encouraged people to go directly to their cars and not congregate in the Narthex, which could easily spread the virus.

- With this return to the “regular” time of Communion, several people have taken it upon themselves to leave after receiving Communion. Please do not do this because it creates problems for traffic flow and also increases the likelihood of congregating in the Narthex.

- Please help spread the word that all are to remain seated after the final blessing and wait for ushers’ instructions to exit in an orderly, safe and healthy manner.

I know these regulations restrict some freedom for us all. I am sure that you join me in struggling with the prayerfulness of Mass these days. Believe me, I am the first to feel the limitations that Covid has brought to us, and particularly to the beautiful, tactile ritual of the Eucharist. I was recently brought to tears when I saw a picture in the hallway of me holding a baby during a baptism. Suddenly that moment and the intimacy and touch that are such grace-filled blessings during the Mass seemed so far away. It seems these days that we are “CONDUCTING” Mass instead of CELEBRATING it. We are following rules as opposed to following the presence of the Holy Spirit.

With all of that being said, I must reiterate that our NUMBER ONE priority is safety. Unfortunately, science and health determine so many of our sacramental procedures. These protocols are for our safety and we must have patience during these odd times and understand that our prayer must be different for the foreseeable future. The Holy Spirit is working in a different way and we are sometimes resistant to embracing it.

Please trust me that the number of people who feel safe and healthy because we follow State and Archdiocesan protocols strictly is the largest segment of our population and, once again, helps us all to care for the precious gift of life that God has given us.

We are now live streaming our 9:00am Mass and are no longer offering a taped weekly Mass. You can also click on the Live Streamed Mass on our website at any time and follow us on Facebook.

The last two weekends we celebrated First Communion with our young parishioners who are now in 3rd grade but have been anticipating receiving the sacrament for some time. Many students and their families decided to wait until next Spring to receive First Communion, citing safety concerns as a reason for waiting.

Our Chapel has been cleaned extensively and there are now only enough chairs, properly spaced apart, for safe worship. We hope to offer Wednesday morning Masses, Reconciliation, Adoration and, perhaps, Academy Masses in the Chapel beginning this coming week.

Racism Terms

We want to continually share information regarding the sin of racism in our world. We believe that learning more about related terms is helpful. This week’s term is Intersectionality, meaning the complex and cumulative way that the effects of different aspects of identity (such as race, sexual orientation, gender, and social class) combine, overlap and intersect.

This week’s Gospel passage from Matthew concludes with a challenging statement, “Many are called, few are chosen.” Reflect on times you have heard a call, and when you have felt chosen.

Preparing for Next Week...

We invite you to read the scripture readings for October 18, Twenty-Ninth Sunday in Ordinary Time, and then reflect on these questions:

The Liturgical Arts Community... creates a vibrant prayer
and worship experience
so that all may participate in a fully conscious and active way in the liturgy. This includes different forms of prayer and
worship experiences,
for all attending Holy Family.

1. In our first reading, God uses the pagan king Cyrus to show that he can use any person to bring good. When have you been helped by people outside of our faith?
2. In Isaiah, we hear: "I have called you by your name ... though you knew me not." What does this say about God's outreach to all people?
3. Paul recognizes those who "work in faith and labor in love." What more should your SCC be doing?
4. Jesus clearly endorses the separation of Church and State, which our country was founded on. Why is this a continuing challenge today?
5. What do you believe "belongs to God"?

SOCIAL JUSTICE QUESTION

There are many false idols in our world today such as money and power. How does worshipping false idols adversely affect the poor and marginalized?

Congratulations to our newly baptized and welcome into the Body of Christ and Holy Family!

EXPANDING HOPE...

ON HOPE by Pope Francis

Please read the book, On Hope by Pope Francis and join Fr. Terry for a discussion about the difference between optimism and hope, and about what the prophet Isaiah teaches us regarding what it means to hope. In uncertain times, this is a powerful reminder that “we must not let hope abandon us, because God, with His love, walks with us.”

Book Discussion will be on Monday, October 26, 2020 at 7:00 pm on Zoom.

Please register for this discussion by emailing Marsha Adamczyk at madamczyk@holymfamilyparish.org to receive your Zoom link.

Tune in with Terry

Our “Tune in with Terry” program continues on Zoom every other Wednesday evening. This is a unique opportunity to gather in small group discussion with Fr. Terry around different topics or Scripture passages. If you would like to receive a Zoom link to join in, please contact Mary Whiteside at mwhiteside@holymfamilyparish.org.
Our next session will be on Wednesday, October 14 at 7:00 pm.

If you are interested in exploring God’s movement in your life, we have two trained Spiritual Directors who are able to meet with you to guide you in that process. For more information, contact Mary Whiteside at mwhiteside@holymfamilyparish.org.

If you are interested in becoming Catholic or you know of someone who would like to learn more about the process, please contact Mary Whiteside at mwhiteside@holymfamilyparish.org. This year we will be on-line for at least the rest of 2020 and we will make decisions about 2021 as we get closer.

The Family & Teen Faith Community... offers faith formation and catechesis to preschool through elementary school aged children and high school teens and their families.

Investing in the Spiritual Life yields remarkable dividends

Take advantage of the Faith Formation and Religious Education Options we offer

As spiritual beings, we seek meaning and purpose.

As Catholics, we believe we find our life's meaning and purpose. We believe we are born with the ability to respond to God's invitation to become friends. This personal friendship with God is what we call faith. The ways we engage with God is what we call the spiritual life.

INVEST IN
and in your children's spiritual lives*

Like all relationships, our friendship with God is a living reality. It is unique, personal, and ongoing. It changes over time. It waxes and wanes. It can deepen or grow stale. Left unattended or taken for granted, it suffers. Our relationship with God needs nurturing if it is to sustain us. Helping your child invest in their friendship with God is one of the greatest gifts you can give.

Spirituality and Religion

Those who share with us, a similar understanding and relationship with God, support and affirm our spirituality. As we continue to share and reflect on our relationship with God with them, we draw closer to God and each other, forming a community of faith. As a community, we develop ways to express what we have come to know about ourselves, each other and God through these relationships, we call beliefs. We acquire ways to express our thoughts and feelings about our relationship with God and each other, creating a common spiritual language comprised of verbal (spoken and written texts), visual (signs and symbols) and non-verbal (rituals) elements.

As a community, we create ways of being with God and each other that strengthen and nourish these bonds. We call these spiritual practices and customs. In addition to beliefs and practices, we choose ways of behaving that enhance our individual relationship with God (values) and agree to common standards that support and enhance our relationships with God and each other (morals).

The beliefs, values, practices, morals and language we share is what comprises religious faith. Our ancestors passed on to us their religious faith. This was a sacred gift, a blessing. Yet every generation has to make the religious faith they inherit, their own. Each generation has to reflect on the religious faith they receive and make it their own, incorporating it in their lives so it both serves their spiritual life and becomes an authentic expression of their relationship with God, before passing it on to others.

Religious faith serves the Spiritual life, giving it form and expression

Religious beliefs and practices do not lead to faith and the development of the Spiritual Life. Religious belief and practice provide tools to respond to God's invitation to friendship and ways to construct our spiritual lives. Inherited faith is the starting point in coming to know God's love intimately and personally.

Invest in your children's spiritual lives by sharing your faith with them. Let Family & Teen Faith help you do this. If you have yet to register your children or teens in Faith Classes (or all of your children/teens) please reconsider. To register please go to <https://holyfamilyparish.org/family-and-teen-faith-registration>.
