Fr. Terry Keehan

The past 15 months in the life of the world have brought many unique dynamics affecting just about every aspect of our existence. My natural inclination toward optimism led me to hope that because the entire world was battling a virus that we, as an entire world community, would come together, and in the face of this global challenge, we would become more united. I am disappointed that a greater sense of human nature has not risen to a greater degree, manifesting more collaboration and unity. Such is the imperfect human nature. I thought that if there was ever a common foe for the entire world to fight, a pandemic would incite urgency and the best of human collaboration would emerge.

We are still in the process of addressing many Covid related issues, so the story is not over yet. Let's hope for some blessings to surface as we move forward.

Now that many restrictions and protocols have been lifted, I am amazed by the energy of our liturgical celebrations. Confirmations, weddings, funerals, reconciliation and, of course, our Eucharistic celebrations have come alive again with renewed energy. A reopened atmosphere has welcomed many of you back to church, and those of you who have been coming all along are experiencing a new freedom.

Here are just a few of the liturgical dynamics at this moment in time:

We can ALL sing now. However, I have noticed a hesitancy by some of us to do so. Perhaps we have gotten used to not singing. We should all sing, joining our voices to enhance the unity of our prayer.

I strongly encourage us all to continue receiving Communion in the hand. Please consider coming forward, reaching out, opening your hands nice and flat to indicate an open heart - a heart to receive the greatest gift there is, the Body of Christ. The health concerns associated with this practice have actually helped in the theological and spiritual practice of receiving Communion that is suggested by our larger church - in the hand.

I have noticed we are stating our name again as we approach the Eucharistic Minister to receive Communion. Perhaps the absence of the physical barrier of the mask has encouraged new freedom in this practice. Please say your name clearly, distinctly, even boldly so the minister can hear you and acknowledge you, thus adding a personal element to a very sacred moment.

The restrictions on hugs, sitting next to others not in your immediate family, and other physical gestures such as a sign of peace have now returned. I hope these warmly shared physical gestures enhance our appreciation of the REAL presence of each other, and thus renew our belief in and appreciation of the REAL presence of Christ in the Eucharist. We also no longer need to register for Mass and there are no limits on numbers attending.

We now continue with the ritual of having select people who represent the entire assembly bringing to the altar gifts of bread and wine. As this resumes, please be aware that the gifts represent all of you. The bearers are bringing YOU to the altar as an offering to God. I hope this gesture also inspires you to be intentional about what you bring to, and offer to, the mission of our community. Your financial gift is a part of that giving. Thank you for being aware of the various giving options available on our website.

We can gather in the Narthex again after Mass, which brings such energy to our celebrations and more personal and real ways to embrace and connect. Water is back in our fonts and it is such a tactile sign of blessing and spiritual life.

We presiders no longer need to wear masks or shields and that simply opens us up to a more dynamic and intimate connection with all of you. We can kiss the altar again as well.

I think you all know how passionate I am about receiving Communion in the form of the Blood of Christ through the cup. This practice may never resume, but I certainly hope it does for so many reasons of shared grace and communion.

I hope this short, incomplete list has deepened your appreciation for the power of ritual in our Roman Catholic worship tradition. We will continue to offer live streamed Masses to engage people much wider than ever before but, as the saying goes, "You don't know what you've got 'til it's gone." And when they return, we always have added appreciation for what we have lost. Let us all appreciate even more what we have in our live worship practices.

Preparing for Next Week...

We invite you to read the scripture readings for July 4, Fourteenth Sunday in Ordinary time, and then reflect on these questions:

Gene Garcia
Director of Liturgical Arts

ggarcia@
holyfamilyparish.org

The Liturgical Arts Community... creates a vibrant prayer
and worship experience
so that all may participate in a fully conscious and active way in the liturgy. This includes different forms of prayer and
worship experiences,
for all attending Holy Family.

1. As stated in our first reading, what do you view as a “rebellious house” today?
2. Is there an Old Testament prophet, including Ezekiel, whose words have strengthened your faith?
3. Paul concludes by saying: “for when I am weak, then I am strong.” Have you been able to find strength out of weakness?
4. The Gospel mentions the “brothers and sisters” of Jesus. Who are these people that Mark is talking about?
5. Many in the synagogue discounted Jesus because of his humble background. What is the lesson for us about judging people based on their background?

SOCIAL JUSTICE QUESTION

What mighty deeds are you providing to others who experience prejudice and discrimination?

Help Wanted!

We are currently seeking team members who would like to help create funeral booklets for our families who have lost loved ones. These booklets provide a guide to the funeral Mass. They are a treasure for the families to keep. Due to the fact that this requires several hours of work per funeral and there is short notice, we do provide a stipend per funeral for this work. Here are the "job requirements."

The Adult Faith Community...
supports the mission of lifelong learning by providing educational, spiritual, and formational activities for the parish and the community.

- The ability to work as a team member with the bereavement ministers and communicate on short notice
- Be available to create the booklets on short notice (it is a team, so the job is shared and you can let us know your availability)
- The ability to work on your own computer with a recent version of Word for documents and be able to insert and edit photos.
- Be able to create a PDF file from a Word document file.
- Have a Gmail account and be familiar with working in Google drive.
- Be available to create booklets from home and to print booklets at church (several hours per booklet).

We will provide training, all the necessary templates to use, and lots of support. If you are interested in helping or learning more about this opportunity to help our grieving families, please contact Jeanie Parry at 949-632-2059.

We ask for adults and children no younger than 12 years old. We need helpers at 8:30am to unload pallets and set up before the distribution as well as to clean up until about noon. Food is distributed between 9:30 and 11:30am. Distribution is outdoors rain or shine.

This is a wonderful opportunity to serve others who are food insecure by putting your faith into action.

Take Action for Asylum-Seekers

People leave their homes because they have nowhere else to turn. You can help advocate for the U.S. to restore and increase necessary asylum protections:

1. Advocate: Call or email your Members of Congress and urge them to hold the Biden administration accountable to end Title 42 expulsions; restore asylum protections; and invest in the U.S.' capacity to humanely welcome and process asylum seekers, unaccompanied children, and immigrants.

Prayer

O God, Trinity of love, from the profound communion of your divine life, pour out upon us a torrent of fraternal love. Grant us the love reflected in the actions of Jesus, in his family of Nazareth, and in the early Christian community. Grant that we Christians may live the Gospel, discovering Christ in each human being, recognizing him crucified in the sufferings of the abandoned and forgotten of our world, and risen in each brother or sister who makes a new start. Come, Holy Spirit, show us your beauty, reflected in all the peoples of the earth, so that we may discover anew that all are important and all are necessary, different faces of the one humanity that God so loves. Amen. (Pope Francis, Fratelli Tutti, Oct 2020)
